Dear Sir:

This paper pertains to petitions to expunge documents from the record of the above-identified application.

Amendments: None

Remarks begin on page 2 of this paper.

Appended hereto are copies of petitions and supporting documents as previously filed, and copies of the Office's previous decisions dismissing the petitions with invitation to resubmit.

No fee is believed to be due with this paper. However, the Office is authorized to charge any necessary and unpaid fees to Marshall Gerstein & Borun Deposit Account Number 13-2855, under order number 28079/41785.

REMARKS*BACKGROUND

Applicants previously filed petitions to expunge dated December 1, 2006, and May 29, 2009 (entered into the record on December 5, 2006, and June 1, 2009, respectively). (Exhibits A and B.) The petitions requested that certain documents that were filed under seal as part of information disclosure statement submissions be expunged if the documents were found not to be important to a reasonable examiner in deciding whether to allow the application to issue as a patent. (See petitions.) In Petition Decisions dated January 26, 2007, and June 5, 2009 (Exhibits C and D), the Office dismissed the petitions as premature, and invited Applicants to resubmit the petitions subsequent to issuance of a Notice of Allowability. The petition decisions specified that no further petition fee would be due at such time.

A Notice of Allowability issued on November 19, 2009.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

The petitions to expunge are now believed to be timely, and Applicants request favorable reconsideration of the petitions at this time. The Office is invited to contact the undersigned attorney by telephone if a telephonic discussion would facilitate consideration of the petitions.

The documents in this IDS originate from four separate litigations which may be viewed as related to the subject matter for which a patent is being sought on the above-identified application. Such submission is made in accordance with MPEP § 2001.06(c) and 37 C.F.R. §§ 1.56, 1.97, and 1.98, and should not be construed as a representation that a search has been made or as an admission that the information cited is, or is considered to be, material to patentability as defined in 37 C.F.R. § 1.56(b). A general overview of these prior litigations is provided below for the Examiner's convenience. Should the Examiner have questions regarding these litigations, the undersigned attorney would be happy to attempt to provide answers.

(1) Mycogen Corp. v. Monsanto Co., 1:04-CV-0573 DFH-WTL, U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Indiana, filed March 30, 2004. Documents C1 to C14 are from this litigation. Mycogen filed suit against Monsanto pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 146 for dissatisfaction with the Final Decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences for Patent Interference No. 103,781 ("the '781 Interference") (C1: Exhibit A). The patent and applications involved in the interference were (a) U.S.S.N. 08/434,105, filed May 3, 1995, a pending application of inventors David Fischhoff et al.; (b) U.S. Application No. 07/827,906 of inventors Barton et al., filed Jan. 30, 1992; and (c) U.S. Patent No. 5,380,831 ("the '831 patent") of inventors Adang et al., filed May 3, 1993. The complaint is document C1, Monsanto's answer is C2, and Mycogen's reply is C3.

The interference was eventually defined by the following "Count 2": (a) any one of claims 3, 5, 39, and 40 of Fischhoff et al.'s application 08/434,105, filed May 3, 1995, (b) any one of claims 1-4, 7, and 15-22 of Barton et al.'s application 07/827,906, filed January 30, 1992, and (c) any one of claims 1-12 of Adang et al.'s '831 patent (C1: Exhibit A at 194). As common owner of the Fischhoff and Barton applications, Monsanto elected Fischhoff as the first to invent the subject matter of Count 2 (C1: Exhibit A at 54). Thereafter, the Board granted priority to Fischhoff over Adang based upon findings that Fischhoff had a prior conception and reduction to practice and that Adang was not diligent in their reduction to practice (C1: Exhibit A at 2). The Board also held that Barton et al. were not entitled to a patent containing claims 1-12 of the '831 patent.

During the § 146 action, Mycogen asserted various dates of conception and reduction to practice for Barton and Adang regarding the inventive subject matter of Count 2 and the invention of modifying the coding sequence of a Bt gene to reduce the number of polyadenylation signals and ATTTA nucleotide sequences in the coding sequence (C4 at 9-14). Monsanto also asserted various dates of conception and reduction to practice for Barton and Fischhoff regarding the subject matter of Count 2 and the invention of modifying the coding sequence of a Bt gene to reduce the number of polyadenylation signals and ATTTA nucleotide sequences in the coding sequence (C5 at 6-11).

Monsanto also responded that it was dissatisfied with certain findings of the Board, including the Board's finding that Fischhoff was not entitled to a conception date of October 30, 1986 (C5 at 3-6). Monsanto proffered expert reports by Mr. John Goolkasian and Dr. Joachim Messing to address these issues (C6, C7, C9). Mycogen proffered expert reports by Dr. Joseph Falkinham to address these issues (C8, C10). Monsanto also filed a motion for summary judgment that Fischhoff was the first to invent the subject matter of Count 2 (C11; Opposition at C12; Reply at C13). The Court also issued an opinion as to certain pending motions (C14). Monsanto and Mycogen discovery responses addressing these issues are provided as documents C4-C5.

Monsanto and Mycogen settled the § 146 action before final adjudication. This resulted in Mycogen withdrawing its allegations of prior invention by Barton and Adang, thus leaving intact the Board's grant of prior invention to Fischhoff over Adang regarding Count 2.

Litigations (3) and (4), described below, also relate to Mycogen's U.S. Patent No. 5,380,831.

(2) Monsanto Co. v. Mycogen Plant Science, Inc., 96-133-RRM, U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware, filed March 19, 1996. Documents C15 to C170 are from this litigation. This litigation related to U.S. Patent No. 5,500,365 ("the '365 patent") which issued from a divisional application of Fischhoff et al., U.S.S.N. 08/434,105. In this litigation, Monsanto asserted that Mycogen Plant Science, Agrigenetics, and Ciba-Geigy had infringed the '365 patent by making, using, and/or selling corn products containing Event 176, a trait directed to conferring resistance to insects.

Prior art asserted by Ciba and Mycogen is included in their notices under 35 U.S.C. § 282 (C15-17). Interrogatory responses related to the parties invalidity contentions are documents C18-C24.

Expert reports were also submitted by the parties on the litigated issues, including those found at C156-C170. Expert reports proffered by Monsanto included reports by Nam-Hai Chua (C169-C170) and John Goolkasian (C166-C167). Expert reports by Mycogen included reports by Lawrence Bogorad (C161), Michael Adang (C156), and Joseph Falkinham (C163-C165). Expert reports by Novartis included reports Arthur Aronson (C157), Julia Bailey-Serres (C158, C168), and John Dewhirst (C162).

The defendants filed various summary judgment motions. Ciba-Geigy moved for summary judgment of invalidity based on prior inventorship under 35 U.S.C. § 102(g) ((C38); Monsanto Opposition (C39); Ciba Reply (C40)). Mycogen moved for summary judgment of invalidity based on obviousness under 35 U.S.C. § 103 ((C41-C42); Monsanto Opposition (C43); Mycogen Reply (C44)). Mycogen and Ciba-Geigy filed a motion to dismiss under Rule 12(b)(6) for failure to comply with the written description requirement of 35 U.S.C. § 112 ¶ 1 ((C45-47); Monsanto Opposition (C48); Reply (C49)). A court hearing was held, in part, on this motion (C37). The motion was denied (C50). Ciba-Geigy and Mycogen filed summary judgment motions asserting that the '365 patent was invalid for lack of written description under 35 U.S.C. § 112 ((C51, C52); Monsanto Opposition (C53); Ciba-Geigy and Mycogen Replies (C54 and C55)).

A jury trial was held on issues of infringement and invalidity. Trial transcripts that may be viewed as relevant to the subject matter for which a patent is sought on the above application may be found as documents C61-C155. Included in the transcripts are testimony by inventors Fischhoff (C91, C129-132) and Perlak (C89, C95, C110-113). Testimony by alleged prior inventors Barton and Miller may be found as documents C82, C86, and C88. Expert testimony introduced by Monsanto included Nam-Hai Chua (C76-C81, C109, C135-6) and John Goolkasian (C71-75, C166-7). Expert testimony introduced by Mycogen included Lawrence Bogorad (C146-8); Michael Adang (C99-101); and Joseph Falkinham (C106-8). Expert testimony introduced by Novartis included Julia Bailey-Serres (C92-4) and John Dewhirst (C83-5).

The jury found that the asserted claims (claims 7, 8, 9, and 12) were literally infringed, but that the accused products were so far changed from the principle of the claimed invention that they did not infringe under the reverse doctrine of equivalents (C59 at 5). The jury also found that the asserted claims were invalid because of prior invention by scientists at Agracetus, Barton and Miller (C59 at 5). The Court later held a bench trial regarding whether the '365 patent was unenforceable due to alleged inequitable conduct by Monsanto (C59 at 5). Fischhoff also testified during the bench trial (C149-152).

All of the parties requested judgment as a matter of law (JMOL) after trial on various issues. Monsanto's JMOL briefing on non-infringement under the reverse doctrine of equivalents and invalidity by prior invention may be found as documents C25, C29, and C36, with opposition briefing as documents C32 and C33. Mycogen's and Novartis' JMOL briefing on invalidity due to lack of written description, indefiniteness, and obviousness may be found as documents C26-28, C30, and C34-35, with opposition briefing as document C31.

The Court issued an opinion on the JMOL's and inequitable conduct (C58, C59). The Court denied Monsanto's JMOL on invalidity for prior invention (C59 at 101-115). Specifically, the Court found that while Fischhoff reduced the asserted claims to practice before Barton and Miller (C59 at 106-111), the jury could have found that Barton and Miller conceived first and were diligent in reducing to practice (C59 at 111-115). The Court found in favor of Monsanto on the issue of infringement under the reverse doctrine of equivalents and entered judgment as a matter of law for Monsanto on the issue (C59 at 115-121). The Court denied Mycogen's and Novartis' JMOL's on invalidity due to lack of written description (C59 at 121-127), indefiniteness (C59 at 128-130), and obviousness (C59 at 130-132). The Court also found that Monsanto had not committed inequitable conduct during prosecution of the '365 patent (C59 at 136-148). The result of the Court's opinion was that the defendants were found to have infringed the asserted claims of the '365 patent, but these claims were invalid based on prior invention by Barton and Miller.

Monsanto appealed to the Federal Circuit regarding prior invention by Barton and Miller (C60). The Federal Circuit upheld the district court's decision and affirmed in favor of the defendants on the issue (C60 at 12).

(3) Mycogen Plant Science, Inc. v. Monsanto Co., 950653J (LSP), U.S. District Court for the Southern District of California, filed May 19, 1995. Documents C171 to C194 are from this litigation. In this litigation, Mycogen asserted that Monsanto had willfully infringed Adang's '831 patent by making, using, and/or selling products containing Monsanto's BollGard® cotton gene, Monsanto's YieldGard® corn gene, Monsanto's NewLeaf® potato gene, Northrup King Bt 11 event gene, or the Stoneville cotton gene. In response, Monsanto asserted, inter alia, that Monsanto scientists Fred Perlak and David Fischhoff invented the claimed invention of the '831 patent prior to Mycogen. (The '831 patent was also the subject of the '781 Interference described above.)

Monsanto proffered expert reports by Mr. John Goolkasian, Mr. Dallas Johnson, and Dr. Joachim Messing (C191, C192, C193). Mycogen proffered an expert report by Dr. Joseph Falkinham (C194). Interrogatory responses are provided as documents C171-173.

On December 28, 1995, Mycogen moved for summary judgment of validity of the '831 patent claims ((C174-175); Monsanto's Opposition (C176), Mycogen's Reply (C177)). In denying Mycogen's motion, the Court declined to "make a ruling that Monsanto has failed to establish the invalidity of Mycogen's patent" (C178 at 3).

Sometime later, on March 30, 1998, Monsanto moved for summary judgment of invalidity under 35 U.S.C. §§ 102(g) and 103 ((C179); Mycogen's Opposition (C180); Monsanto's Reply (C181)). Monsanto further moved for summary judgment that the '831 patent claims were invalid under 35 U.S.C. § 112 ((C182); Mycogen's Opposition (C183); Monsanto's Reply (C184)). Following oral arguments on the summary judgment motions, the Court stayed the proceedings until the post-trial motions in the related case in Delaware were complete (see section (4) below). On September 8, 1999, following rulings on these motions in Delaware, the Court lifted the stay and granted Monsanto's motion for summary judgment pursuant to 35 U.S.C. §§ 102(g) and 103 (C185). The Court denied Monsanto's motion for summary judgment under 35 U.S.C. § 112 as moot. See C185.

These decisions were appealed to the Federal Circuit. Upon reviewing the district court's prior invention determination, the Federal Circuit concluded that summary judgment was improper because fact issues remained to be resolved on the issue of prior inventorship. C186 (Mycogen Plant Science, Inc. v. Monsanto Co., 252 F.3d 1306, 1314 (Fed. Cir. 2001). The Federal Circuit declined to rule on Monsanto's motion for summary judgment of invalidity under 35 U.S.C. § 112, leaving it to the district court to resolve in the first instance. Mycogen Plant Science, 252 F.3d at 1317.

Following the Federal Circuit decision, Monsanto renewed its motion/ for summary judgment of invalidity under 35 U.S.C. § 112 (C187, Mycogen's Opposition at C188, Monsanto's Reply at C189). The Court denied Monsanto's motion on June 4, 2002 (C190). Subsequently, Mycogen dismissed all pending claims with prejudice.

(4) Mycogen Plant Science, Inc. v. Monsanto Co. et al., 96-505-RRM, U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware, filed October 22, 1996. Documents C195 to C305 are from this litigation. This litigation related to patents issuing from continuing applications of Adang's '831 patent—specifically, U.S. Patent Nos. 5,567,600 ("the '600 patent") and 5,567,862 ("the '862 patent"). In this litigation, Mycogen asserted that Monsanto had willfully infringed the '600 and '862 patents by making, using, and/or selling products containing Monsanto's BollGard® cotton gene, Monsanto's YieldGard® corn gene, Monsanto's NewLeaf® potato gene, Northrup King Bt 11 event gene, or the Stoneville cotton gene. Monsanto asserted, inter alia, that Monsanto scientists Fred Perlak and David Fischhoff invented the claimed invention of the '600 and '862 patents prior to the Mycogen inventors. In response to that allegation, Mycogen further asserted that Monsanto had derived the subject matter claimed in the '600 and '862 patents from Mycogen.

Prior art asserted by Monsanto and Delta and Pine Land Company and by DeKalb Genetics are included in their notices under 35 U.S.C. § 282 (C195-196). Interrogatory responses are at C197-202. Monsanto also proffered expert reports on the litigated issues by Mr. Donald Banner, Mr. Dallas Johnson, and Dr. Joachim Messing (C228, C229, C230 respectively). Mycogen proffered expert reports by Mr. Lawrence Bogorad and Dr. Joseph Falkinham (C231, C232).

Prior to trial, Monsanto filed a summary judgment motion of invalidity under 35 U.S.C. § 102(g) asserting that Mycogen was not the first to invent the subject matter of the '862 and '600 patents ((C214, C216 (amended)); Mycogen's Opposition (C215); Monsanto's Reply (C217)). Monsanto also filed a summary judgment motion of invalidity under 35 U.S.C. § 112 asserting that the '862 and '600 patents failed to satisfy the enablement requirement and would require undue experimentation in order to practice the claimed invention ((C218), Mycogen's Opposition (C219-220); Monsanto's Reply (C221)). Co-defendant DeKalb Genetics Corp. filed its summary judgment motion of invalidity under 35 U.S.C. § 112, asserting that the '862 and '600 patents failed to satisfy the enablement requirement ((C222); Mycogen's Opposition (C223-224); DeKalb's Reply (C225)). Letters addressed to the Court regarding the above summary judgment motions are included as documents C212-213. The district court judge did not grant any of these motions.

A jury trial was held on issues of infringement and invalidity. Trial transcripts that may be viewed as relevant to the subject matter for which a patent is sought on the above application may be found as documents C234 to C304. Included within the trial transcripts are testimony by both Elizabeth Murray (C237 to C241) and Michael Adang (C277 to C280) and Mycogen experts Mr. Lawrence Bogorad and Dr. Joseph Falkinham (C273 to C276). Also included within the trial transcripts are testimony by Monsanto scientists Fred Perlak (C242 to C244) and David Fischhoff (C256 to C258) as well as testimony by Monsanto expert Dr. Joachim Messing (C259, C260).

The jury found that the claimed invention of the '600 and '862 patents were invalid due to prior invention by Monsanto and entered a "N/A" as to the remaining invalidity issues (C226 at 10-12). The Delaware court entered a judgment declaring that the '600 and '862 patents were invalid based upon the jury's determination that Monsanto was the first to invent the technology underlying those patents. See C226. All parties moved for judgment as a matter of law (JMOL) on various issues following entry of the judgment. Mycogen moved for JMOL on the issues of prior inventorship and obviousness and moved for a new trial ((C203, C204); Monsanto's Opposition (C205); DeKalb's Opposition (C206); Mycogen's Reply (C207)). Monsanto moved for JMOL on invalidity based on prior invention and invalidity due to lack of enablement as well as indefiniteness ((C208, C209, C210); Mycogen's Opposition (C305); Monsanto's Reply (C211)).

The Court issued an opinion on the JMOL motions (C227) which denied Mycogen's motion for JMOL and granted Monsanto's motion for JMOL holding that the claims of the '600 and '862 patents were invalid for lack of enablement.

On appeal, the Federal Circuit affirmed the jury's verdict of invalidity based upon prior invention pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 102(g). See C233. It found that this rendered a ruling on the district court's grant of Monsanto's JMOL of lack of enablement pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 112, unnecessary (C233).

This is in response to the petition under 37 CFR § 1.59(b), filed June 1, 2009, to expunge information from the above identified application. This application has not been allowed Petitioner requests that the Proprietary Information Disclosure Statement, June 1, 2009 be expunged from the record as the documents are subject to one or more protective orders, and have not otherwise been made public. Petitioner states either: (A) that the information contains trade secret material, proprietary material and/or material that is subject to a protective order which has not been made public; or (B) that the information submitted was unintentionally submitted and the failure to obtain its return would cause irreparable harm to the party who submitted the information or to the party in interest on whose behalf the information was submitted, and the information has not otherwise been made public. The petition fee set forth in 37 CFR § 1.17(g) has been paid.

This application is under non-final action. Also, the information provided has not been reviewed. As stated in M.P.E.P. 724, upon allowance or other action closing prosecution in an application, petition may be made for return of Proprietary information. The information cannot be expunged at this time.

The petition is DISMISSED. Petitioner may resubmit the petition subsequent to a Notice of Allowability or ex parte Quayle action being mailed in the application. No additional petition fee will be required at that time
